

Abstract

Methods and kits for determining whether a subject has or is predisposed to developing restenosis are provided.